Task force takes 585 marijuana plants

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
The tri-county Hancock County Task Force harvested some 585 marijuana plants from nine fields Thursday.

The task force was assisted by Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson, Bay St. Louis Police Chief Frank McNeil and Waveland Police Chief Jimmy Varnell, along with several other officers.

A spokesman for the task force said the plants were from three to ten feet tall and the fields contained from 15 to 200 plants. Some marijuana plants were well manicured while others were uncared for, the spokesman said.

Some of the fields were located in the NASA Buffer Zone, while others were found throughout the county. No arrests were made, but there are several suspects and the harvest is still under investigation, the task force spokesman said.

Surveillance is still being maintained over several other known plots.

Helicopters were used for assistance with the harvest.

Peterson said, "We wanted to harvest the plants (marijuana) we did today before the growers harvested them and put them on the streets."

"We are happy to see the drugs eradicated, as it seems marijuana is increasing in the area," Varnell and McNeil added.

Others assisting in the harvest included Tom Burleson, Bay chief of detectives; Major Gerald Ncaise, Deputy Joe Mack, Deputy Bruce Procop, Deputy Tommy Powell, Sandra Henley, Waveland assistant police chief; Officer Laura Lachin, Officer Jerry Beaugez, and Terry Eley, Hancock County Task Force member.

This being the season for marijuana, officers are requesting all citizens with information on marijuana plots, or any drugs to call police.

Task Force members report that all calls will be kept confidential.

The telephone numbers are, Hancock County sheriff's office, 467-5101; Bay St. Louis police department, 467-9221; and Waveland police department, 467-3669.

Soccer Complex

Volunteers are needed on Saturdays to help clear the grounds of the new Scott Demboski Soccer Complex of roots, stumps, etc. The new soccer complex is located on Longfellow Road behind the Hancock County Civic Center. Recently Art Rieben, left, and Don Sheldon were among a group of volunteers helping get the fields ready. Rieben is president of the BAYS. There is also a need for fill dirt and donations. For further information, call Tom Demboski, 467-4773. (Echo staff photo by Ellis C. Cuevas)

Wider Blue Meadow in works

BY MARY G. SEILEY
Blue Meadow Road may be in for further widening — but there's concern about the fate of some large trees along the route.

Bay St. Louis city officials Wednesday hired Brown & Mitchell to do preliminary engineering on the project, a step that will put the city in line for state funding of construction.

The city recently completed its own widening project on part of the roadway, between Highway 90 and Bay High School. That work's primary purpose was to ease casino-related congestion at the busy intersection, by providing new turn lanes.

Widening further northward on Blue Meadow, beyond Casino Magic Drive to Joe's Bayou Road, now is up for study by Brown & Mitchell.

Mayor Eddie Favre said some see the proposed project as a good way to improve access to the casino without construction of an entirely new route off Highway 90. While the city paid for costs of the newly-widened segment of Blue Meadow, city officials say state funds are assured for continuing the project, once preliminary engineering is done.

"This takes it off the back burner and puts it on the front," Favre said of the engineering step.

Councilman Tad Black wanted assurances that during the design process, steps will be taken to route the roadway around several large magnolias along the way.

He said if engineers determine there's no way to retain the trees, the project probably would be scrapped, and the engineering expense would be a waste.

Favre said the tree issue would be considered early in the design process.

The city has reserved funds in its upcoming budget to widen Green Meadow Road, between Blue Meadow and Highway 90.

In other business Wednesday, council was told that seven architects have submitted proposals to design restoration of the old CSX depot. The proposals are under study, Favre said, and council will be given a recommendation later.

The city hasn't purchased the depot yet, but has a federal grant for its restoration. Officials are completing an appraisal process required before the purchase can take place.

Proposals were filed by: BOA, Inc.; Michael Reeves; Argus Architects/Engineering; Kevin Scott Fitzpatrick; Dickinson/Sims; Kemp & Associates; and Bruce Tolar Architects.

The accounting firm of Moore & Powell was retained at $28,500 to audit the city's books for fiscal year 1994. But councilman James C. Thriffley said he wanted assurances the audit is completed by Feb. 1.

Thriffley said he had been "very disappointed" that the firm's audit for fiscal year 1993 wasn't delivered to council until last month, when officials of the firm apologized for the delay, and explained several reasons

Brother Phillip, S.C. dies in Bay St. Louis

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Brother Phillip, S.C. (John Francis Lewis), 75, of Bay St. Louis died Friday.

Visitation is tentatively scheduled for Monday from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at St. Stanislaus Chapel in Bay St. Louis. A wake service is scheduled for 8 p.m.

A former principal, teacher and athletic director at St. Stanislaus, he was a Brother of the Sacred Heart for 58 years.

Brother Phillip was a longtime moderator for the Sideline Club at St. Stanislaus where he was a resident from 1964. Prior assignments at St. Stanislaus were 1940-43 and 1951-61.

A Fall River, MA., native, his teaching assignments also included schools in New Orleans, Baton Rouge, Vicksburg and Mobile.

A funeral service is tentatively scheduled for Tuesday at 4 p.m. at Stanislaus Chapel where friends may call two hours before the service.

Burial will be in the Brothers Cemetery in Bay St. Louis.

Edmond Fahey Funeral Home in Bay St. Louis is in charge of the services.

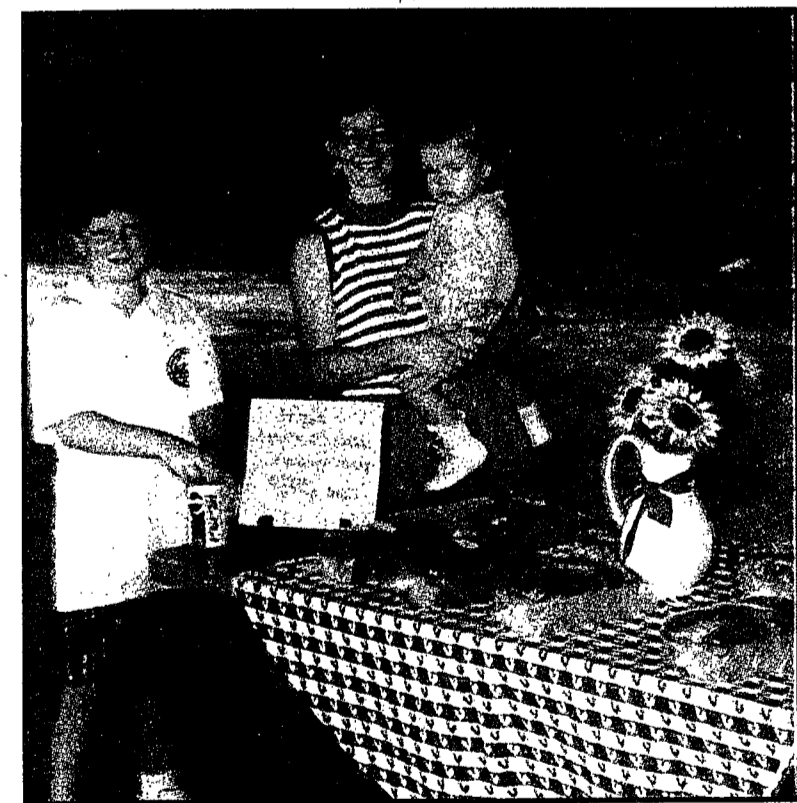

Brother Phillip, S.C.

Spiffy uniforms

The women employees at city hall in Bay St. Louis are sporting a brand new look these days. They will be wearing new uniforms with interchangeable pieces that include blazers, skirts, shorts and pants. Blouses are brightly colored to look smart with the patterned basics. Modeling the outfits that will make choosing what they wear to work much simpler are Mary Ann Barbetta, Joyce Rhodes, Laura Griffith, Liz Farve, Clare Bourgeois, Barbara Redding, Patricia Tice, Kay Johnson and Charlene Rutledge. (Echo staff photo by Mary G. Seiley)

Fresh bread

Fresh sourdough bread is a regular item available at the Hancock County Farmers Market located on Longfellow Road. Vendor Mary Lane Boh is assisted by son Stephen as she holds daughter Ashley. The market offers all types of locally grown produce and is open Wednesday and Saturday mornings. (Echo staff photo by Ellis C. Cuevas)

Officer is commended

BY MARY G. SEILEY
A Bay St. Louis policeman was commended Wednesday for sensing that something just wasn't right in the wee hours of the morning on Central Avenue.

That suspicion by Officer Paul Cox ended with the arrest of a local man who's been jailed for a June 4 armed robbery of the Majik Market at Washington St. and Highway 90.

Chief Frank McNeil said the robbery occurred at 2:45 a.m. when a black male in his 20's, about 5 feet 10 inches tall, beat a store clerk with a club and fled with her purse, and some cash from the store.

Alerted to the incident, Cox was canvassing the general area in search of a suspect matching the description. He saw someone matching the general description running down Central — but the runner was wearing a white t-shirt and white shorts. The robber was said to have been wearing a striped shirt and striped shorts, the chief said.

Second thoughts save Bay $75

BY MARY G. SEILEY
Sometimes, the best legal advice is free.

That's what Bay St. Louis City Council learned Wednesday when grappling with a sticky little question concerning computers.

The city bought a personal computer system for council's clerk some four months ago. It was already loaded with the software the city sought. But the instruction books and discs associated with the programming didn't come with the deal.

Wednesday, councilman Tad Black said the city should take action immediately on the matter — either go ahead and pay for the equipment the city accepted, or force the vendor to provide the books and discs. Black said it's simply not good business to let the matter lie fallow any longer.

After discussion, council was poised to refer the issue to city attorney John Scafide for study and a recommended course of action.

Through rose-colored glasses, the kind I wear, no matter what the view, I'm always seeing you.

Children leave, moments pass; moments in a lifetime so quickly melt away.

One moment of loving is good for the soul. It's something I know — not what I have been told.

Even though I grieve for my loved ones now gone, the spirit lives on though the body is dead.

We love you and miss you.

Nothing is wrong with Waveland water

BY CHARLEE MARSHALL

No, Waveland residents, there is nothing wrong with your water, although it may be smelling a bit like rotten eggs. Is there something dangerous in the water? Absolutely not! said Michael Vaughn, director of utilities for Waveland.

He admits there have been some complaints but wants to assure everyone that the problems are being worked out. Mains were opened to allow water to circulate and chlorine has been added to the water supply.

Consumers living on certain streets, mainly on the southwest side of town, have been noticing the odor that often occurs when water sets in pipes and is not circulated.

Vaughn offered some parti-

"This experience gave me a broad knowledge of environmental concerns and the need to protect our natural resources," stated West.

He also has an extensive background in training and safety.

West further stated, "My concerns are the concerns of the residents of Ward 3; a better, safer Waveland with improved services for all our residents."

West has an associate of science degree in fire technology from Delgado Community College. He also has been certified in the field of marine fire fighting, emergency medical technology, hazardous materials, compliance and enforcement, supervision and personnel effectiveness.

West served in the U.S. Coast Guard attaining the rank of Petty Officer 3rd Class. He is a lifetime member of the Louisiana State Firemen's Association and a member of Toastmaster International.

West resides on Farrar Lane with his wife Margaret. Margaret's mother, Mary Gilmore, resides on Amar Street, and daughter Vanessa Favre is a resident of Bay St. Louis.

culars on the water system in Waveland.

There are "53 miles" of pipe to distribute water and a "lot of dead end lines in Waveland," he said. The city has been laying even more pipe to accommodate the new houses being built in the area.

The city's main well is located off Arnold and must supply a number of consumers until the well on Tide Street is up and running again. The Tide Street well has been out of commission for quite some time, Vaughn said.

Samples of the city's water must be submitted each month to the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) for testing. EPA standards don't cover smell or color, only bacterial content, Vaughn pointed out.

Arrest made in fondling

BY SHARON K. SAUCIER

A Picayune man has been arrested and charged with fondling.

Kenneth Rabalais, 35, 25291 Katie Dr., Picayune, was arrested at the Hancock County Sheriff's Department Wednesday, Investigator Glen Strong said.

He is being held under a $5,000 bond.

The incident occurred a week ago in Hancock County, Strong added.

Officer

McNeil said Cox pulled up to talk to the runner and got even more suspicious when he noticed the man's t-shirt was on inside out and backwards. His shoes, said McNeil, were tied.

Cox investigated, and found the car used in the incident, the club, and the stolen goods.

Arrested was Lamar Wimbley, 27, of 752 Washington Street. McNeil said Wimbley is being held on armed robbery charges.

Cox, meanwhile, was given a commendation by McNeil and City Council. McNeil said Cox has been on the local force about a year, but has some 14 years' law enforcement experience in Mississippi.

But when Scaife learned that the disputed discs and books would cost a mere $25, he asked council to think twice. "If I look into it, it's going to cost the city $100. Why not just pay the $25?" he asked. "It would be a lot cheaper. You know my hourly rate."

In fact, Scaife offered to lend the city $25, to put the issue to rest.

Councilmen then discussed having the vendor appear at a City Council meeting, to resolve the issue. "The one from Starkville? I don't think he'd come," quipped one city official.

The matter was referred to city purchasing officials for resolution.

The mayor said the audit of 1994's books will be completed by Jan. 31, barring unforeseen complications.

In other matters, council:

--Agreed to advertise for bids to have a state-owned lot in the 400 block of Easterbrook Street cleaned. Favre said city employees could do the work themselves, but they're too busy on other projects. Council president Charles Scianna voted against clearing the lot, saying emerging trees should be left in place.

--Discussed ways to sponsor

QUOTES

By Ellis C. Cuevas

and I arrived late Wednesday after taking a long drive home involved a lot of America's

It is always good to get away for a few days. Our trip included Asheville, Winston-Salem, Wilkerson, Jamestown, Yorktown and Stone Mountain. There were 31 in our group, a Hancock Bank Classic Club-sponsored tour.

Our regular traveling friends Harold and Alice Mason and Phillip and Irene Scafidi were among the group.

The visit to the historic areas brought back memories of school days when I studied about America's history.

Visiting the historical sites, viewing the restored buildings, reading and hearing the stories first-hand really adds to ones knowledge.

I would recommend visiting the Williamsburg area, as well as Winston-Salem, Old Salem and even the Biltmore Estate at Asheville.

A very interesting evening was also spent at the Hill-billy Hide-A-Way Restaurant in Walnut Grove, N.C.

It was way, way, back in the hills. Even though it was not Saturday, we received a special treat from the owner who gave us a special from his Music Hall. The Music Hall is open on Saturday nights for about three hours with gospel, bluegrass and country music.

A vacation, I recommend one to everyone, as it is always refreshing to get away from home for a few days.

I cannot wait until my next vacation.

"A-Z" more than a catchy name

The "A-Z" spending cuts bill certainly has one of the most catchy names of all the bills put forth in the U.S. Congress this year.

The bill was proposed by Representative Bill Loeffel of New Hampshire as an attempt to attack wasteful expenditures allocated by Congress. His name is represented by the "Z," and the "A" represents the name of Congressman Rob Andrews of New Jersey, who cosponsored the measure — very clever.

But more clever than its name is the process it proposes for grappling with government spending gone wild.

The bill provides for a special 56-hour session of congressional debate exclusively on spending cuts. The idea is to bring outdated and wasteful spending programs before the Congress for public scrutiny.

But an aide from one of Mississippi's congressional offices said that by the time the bill was hammered out, it evolved into something quite different from what original supporters had envisioned.

For one thing, the bill looms perilously close to reopening cuts on the defense budget. That budget is already picked to the bone by the feeding frenzies of post Cold War enthusiasts; and yet, the bill shies away from entitlement programs, many of which are the major source of spending overruns.

There are many hypotheses on why the bill has lost its original luster; but whatever the reasons, the word from Capitol Hill is that for all practical purposes the bill is now dead in committee and will not make it to the floor during this session of Congress.

It's a pity really. Setting aside time to rethink some of the frivolous programs that have slithered through Congress is just the thing the American people have ordered. Still, few leaders in Washington — or Mississippi for that matter — seem to empathize with voters' frustrations.

Perhaps the members who are unable to support "A-Z" during the 103rd Congress can come up with an acceptable alternative during the 104th, even if it doesn't have a catchy name.

We all hear about the big disasters. But disasters happen every day. Which means every day, people like you need food, clothing and a place to rest. Please support the American Red Cross. Call 1-800-842-2200. Because disaster never rests.

IN CONGRESS

By Rep. Gene Taylor

Taylor says U.S./Japan auto parts deficit must be addressed

Signaling growing displeasure on Capitol Hill with the pace and direction of ongoing "framework negotiations" between the U.S. and Japan, 88 lawmakers wrote to President Clinton to urge him to warn Japan that trade sanctions are imminent if their auto and auto parts markets are not opened to U.S. competition.

By signing the letter, my colleagues and I have indicated that in our view the "framework negotiations" would be a failure unless the chronic trade deficit in autos and auto parts is addressed. In our letter, we offered the President six concrete objectives for the Administration's negotiating team if they want a successful trade agreement on autos and auto parts with Japan.

It is absolutely ridiculous that American suppliers are actively kept out of Japan's market, even if U.S. products' quality and price are equal or better. At present, there is no justification for the unfair advantage.

Also, Japanese vehicle manufacturers still refuse to provide the actual domestic content levels of their vehicles. The stonewalling on Japan's part translates into a growing trade deficit with Japan and the loss of hundreds of thousands of American jobs.

If President Clinton's trade advisors are unable to negotiate the meaningful objectives laid out in our letter, he should invoke the "Super 301" trade law which he recently revived.

The Super 301 requires the Administration, by Sept. 30, to name unfair practices of foreign countries to a priority watch list.

If negotiations do not resolve the named unfair practice within a specific time frame, then the Administration can retaliate by imposing equivalent trade restrictions on goods from the country found to be unfairly discriminating against U.S. products.

Made in America auto parts make up less than two percent of Japan's home market, according to the U.S. Department of Commerce. Nearly two-thirds of our $60 billion trade deficit with Japan is caused by the trade imbalance in autos and auto parts. From 1981 to 1993, the annual auto parts trade deficit skyrocketed from $1 billion to $11 billion.

If the world's number one market can open her doors to Japanese trade, like we have for decades, then why can't Japan open its ports to U.S. automobiles and auto parts.

The decade's old excuse that Americans can't build compact, fuel efficient and reliable automobiles, or quality auto parts is hogwash.

FROM THE STATE AUDITOR

GENERAL

Q Was Section 27-41-59 corrected to provide for tax sales in August rather than September?

A Yes. (House Bill 817, Regular Session 1994, effective March 3, 1994)

Q Has the law regarding who receives the 5 percent damages collected on a tax sale redemption been changed?

A Yes. (Senate Bill 3103, Regular Session 1994, Effective July 1, 1994, revised §27-34-1 to require this collection on redemption of sales made after July 1, 1994, go to the general fund. The collection on redemption of sales made before July 1, 1994, will continue to go to the purchaser.

Q Does the new seat belt law contain unusual provisions?

A Yes. A person must be convicted of not wearing a seat belt and another violation to be fined (recorded under the same case number). No assessment or court cost are charged for the seat belt violation. (§63-2-7)

SCHOOLS

Q Is a school attendance officer a full-time employee of the District Attorney?

A Yes. (Senate Bill 3019, Regular Session 1994, effective April 8, 1994)

Q May school attendance officers be assigned responsibilities other than those relating to compulsory school attendance during the summer months by the District Attorney?

A No. (Attorney General's Opinion to Musgrove dated May 26, 1994)

Q May a county board of supervisors deed the superintendent's office property to the school district?

A No. Section 37-9-70 creates in the county board of supervisors the continuing responsibility of providing an office to the superintendent.

Supervisors' attorney disputes Maness' article on reefs

Dear Editor:

I am writing to you in response to an article written by Jim Maness, on page 4B of the August 18 Sea Coast Echo.

In the article "Fishing Reef off the Beach" Mr. Maness wrote about the creation of a fishing reef in the recently completed "Burrow" pit, and in the last paragraph of the article states, "The only catch to the whole project is the Hancock County Board of Supervisors has to give a formal request to DMR."

Mr. Maness infers that the board of supervisors is not pursuing this matter diligently.

As attorney for the Hancock County Board of Supervisors I would like to advise you that since May 17, 1990, the board of supervisors has requested fishing reefs in Hancock County.

Since May of 1990, members of the board have met with Mr. Gill in an effort to obtain fishing reefs in Hancock County.

I have a number of letters and resolutions from the board of supervisors, which are too lengthy to place in the letter, but the documents sent to BMR by the board are as follows:

1) Letter of resolution of the board, dated May 17, 1990, requesting fishing reefs near the Washington Street Pier and the Waveland Pier; and

2) Resolution dated June 15, 1993 requesting three fishing reefs at the Washington Street Pier, Ulman Avenue Pier and the Waveland Pier; and

3) Letter to BMR dated September 3, 1993, requesting a response to the board of supervisors resolution dated June 15, 1993 requesting fishing reefs in Hancock County; and

4) Response dated September 7, 1993 from Mr. Joe Gill, deputy director of BMR, advising the county that the Bureau would survey the three areas to determine their physical suitability to receive reef materials; and

5) Request for review of application dated June 21, 1994 from the BMR relative to the three sites, wherein the Bureau recommended 250 cubic yards of shell material at each site area, and the board's response dated June 28, 1994 requested 500 cubic yards rather than 250 cubic yards pursuant to discussion had by all of the board members.

6) Application for the "Burrow" pit location which was received by the board of supervisors on Monday, August 22, 1994 and the board's response on Thursday, Aug. 25, 1994, advising Mr. Gill that at its next meeting the board will authorize execution of the application.

At the board of supervisors meeting held on June 21, 1994, Congressman Gene Taylor's representative was authorized, on behalf of Hancock County, to pursue the fishing reefs issue with the BMR, soon to be the DMR, which was done.

In other words, the board of supervisors has pursued the fishing reef locations for at least the last five years and has done everything possible to have these reefs placed in Hancock County.

Mr. Gill has been extremely cooperative with the county and, through his efforts, the DMR's and the board of supervisors', it appears that in the very near future all of these efforts will finally reap some benefits to the sportsfishermen of Hancock County.

I apologize for the length of this letter, however, I have read a number of inaccurate and incorrect statements by Mr. Maness in the past about the board of supervisors and ignored them, but I could not do that now, since I know how hard the board of supervisors has worked to get these reefs, and I feel Mr. Maness' inference was, once again, a bum rap by him on the board.

Yours very truly,
Gerald C. Gex
Board of Supervisors
Attorney

P.S. For Mr. Maness' benefit, the area dredged is a "Borrow" pit not a "Burrow" pit.

Doberman has neighborhood in panic situation

Dear Editor:

This may sound petty to some of you, but is very important and serious to me. I have lost my right to walk on my street and go around the corner and visit my friends because of a loose doberman pinscher.

When he sees me he runs into the street barking and growling at me. I am terrified of this dog. He is an intimidating animal. I owned a doberman before.

He also bit my Besen (P.A.) in the head, and I couldn't get his jaws apart. My husband finally did. (P.A. still has a scar in his head.)

My friends around the corner are also afraid of the doberman. We now all have to drive around to visit instead of having a good leisure walk.

I live on a dead-end street, and this dog is in the first house. You must pass there to get out of the street. There is no other way.

My husband has talked with the dog's owner and the animal warden several times and even to the sheriff.

Her only remarks were, "There is no leash law, and I'm not tying my dog up." Great neighbor, isn't she? God remembers ugly!

Where are my rights and the rights of the other neighbors who would like to walk peacefully on the streets?

I moved here from New Orleans to get away from crime, traffic and just plain old ugly.

I have four dogs and love them like my children, and I have a large fenced yard on three sides as I live on a canal.

Want to hear the icing on the cake? I looked out of the window, and who do you think was in my fenced yard? The doberman.

My dogs were scattered throughout the yard and when they finally saw him, they chased him back into the canal where he had to swim across.

Do I now have to fence in the back by the canal because of this very inconsiderate neighbor? Doesn't seem fair to me. She has no fence, and I have to add a fence.

I came here to live "happily ever after." I don't blame the dog and neither do my friends. Nobody wants anything bad to happen to the dog, as we are all animal lovers and have animals. We just want the owner to fence in some of her yard.

I'm a nervous wreck when I go in the yard or let the dogs into the yard for fear he may be there. I've seen with my own eyes what dobermans can do. They love you one minute or months and when they get ready, they take you out.

If you want to really think about it, she doesn't really care about her dog, because she lets it loose. It may be run over by a car or run into a neighbor's yard and attack a child.

BREWER'S WORLD

By Jimmie Brewer

Rise and shine, Dudes and Dudettes. You've won the grand prize of another day in Paradise. Fire up the skillet, toss a couple of unborn chickens in, pour yourself a cup of chickory and start your engines.

"Perpetual Motion" was how my brother's law partner and friend correctly described the activity of my Bubba's four sons, all of whom are under six years of age.

I was introduced to the overly energetic foursome recently during a weekend excursion up to Caruthersville, Mo. The town, located in the boot heel of Missouri, sits quietly up against the mighty Mississippi and is nestled in between fields of cotton, corn and beans, where the golfing range is located behind the closet-sized proshop in between two 55-gallon barrel drums.

What promised to be a peaceful weekend in a place where the folks golf in overalls, and the only sounds you hear is an occasional crop duster flying fence-high just beyond your back yard, abruptly changed around 6 a.m. the first morning of my stay.

My first thought was an earthquake. My second thought was that somehow a herd of Buffalo had managed to find its way into the living room and was trying desperately to escape.

After what seemed an eternity of staring up at the ceiling, curiosity got the best of me, and I decided to investigate.

You would have had to see it to believe it.

There were two big dogs racing around the house, closely followed by the oldest boy, Paul, who was closely followed by the next oldest, Adam, who was screaming in a terrified panic.

The youngest boy, Zach, all of 6 months old, was sitting wide-eyed and bewildered in his own world watching the melee unfold.

Then I saw him, and it was instantly obvious what they were running from. It was Daniel, the third oldest — who has yet to see his second birthday — in hot pursuit of his victims.

Folks, here is a dude who had long passed the stage of being cute.

Daniel has the personality of Dick Butkus and the body of a pro wrestler. His crewcut makes him look like Sgt. Carter of the old Gomer Pyle shows.

Daniel doesn't walk, he STOMPS, and he doesn't just fall down, he CRASHES. The Pentagon would do well to enlist him in the Marines as a drill instructor.

It's no use locking doors in that Brewer household, as Daniel, who can't reach the door knobs, busts right through them. After a full day of defending myself, and watching these kids eat an entire inventory from the local grocery store, I was ready for a reprieve, and my brother knew just the right place.

Woody's seems to be as much a part of Caruthersville as the cotton fields that surround it; a place where the good ole boys gather to talk much about nothin'. The conversations are usually like this:

"Hey Brewer, how's the bleep, bleep, bleep doing?"

"It sure is bleep, bleeping hot today. Hey Woody, toss me another one of those bleeping beers."

What impressed me the most was that it was actually okay to discard your empties and spent cigarettes on the floor. In fact, Woody encouraged it.

His decor was most suitable for Brewer's World. The bar stools were all ripped and torn, the ceiling was covered with hats and other women's clothing, and the old, dusty juke box in the corner played a steady tune of country songs. Thanks for the cooler, Woody. See ya' around.

Praise for do-gooders this week goes out to Woody who rescued me from the wrath of Daniel. Honorable mention goes to Colleen, who served me up the biggest, tastiest ribeye I ever ate. It came complete with the best country hospitality around.

Jr. Tigers claw 'Cats

The Bay Junior High Tigers handed the Long Beach Jr. High Bearcats their first defeat in two years Tuesday with a 16-0 win. The loss broke a 17-game winning streak for the Bearcats.

The Tigers opened the scoring with a 22-yard run by halfback Ronald Brown. Halfback Rendel Haynes ran in the two-point conversion to make the score 8-0 at the end of the first quarter.

In the second quarter, the Haynes/Brown team scored again to make the score 16-0 at the half. The second half was scoreless.

The entire defensive unit — Steven Boudro, Earl Fayard, Bert Hoppood, Michael Shaw, Brown, Haynes, Robbie Henderson, Charlie Buckley, Jason McKay, Brent Haynes and Doug Garroute — played an outstanding game in posting the shutout.

The Tigers' record is now 1-1 after a narrow 20-16 loss to St. Stanislaus. The Tigers' next game will be their first home contest of the season, when they host Pass Christian September 19 at 5:30 p.m.

Coach Wali Shabazz said his team played well in the first half. "We played well in the first half," Shabazz said. "We made the big plays when they needed them."

The kickoff was delayed for an hour as a colorful display of lightning surrounded the playing area. Once the game got started, both teams were halted on their first possessions. The Tigers' second possession featured an impressive drive as they moved the ball deep into Pirate territory behind the strong running of Xavier Lewis and Richard Benton.

However, with five minutes remaining in the first quarter, Bay High fumbled the ball and the Pirates recovered. Pass Christian then mounted a drive of its own as Clark ran for 20 yards and completed passes of 17 yards to tight end Brian Wilson and 10 yards to wide receiver Leonard Ward.

After a holding call at the Tiger 20, the Pirates fumbled the ball on a pitch-out and Bay High smothered the ball at their own 35-yard line. The Tigers used a ball control offense to drive the length of the field and set up a field goal attempt by kicker Raleigh Murphy.

The attempt was thwarted as the snap was bobbled and Pass took over the ball with 7:53 remaining in the half.

Six plays later Pirate QB Clark connected with Ward for a 60-yard touchdown pass down the left side of the field. The two-point conversion failed and the score was 6-0.

On the Tigers' next possession they featured a passing attack of their own. With 46 seconds left in the half, Shabazz pinpointed a pass to Lewis, who ran it in for a Tiger touchdown. The PAT was good as Raleigh's kick was good and the score was 12-0 at the end of the first half.

Bay High kicked off to start the second half and stopped the Pirates in four plays, forcing a punt by Ricky Lewis. Xavier Lewis fielded the punt, and aided with some impressive blocking, cut his way to the 35.

On the first play of the series, Tiger running back Reggie Williams blew up the middle for an by delivered pass and rambled 47 yards into the end zone. The two-point conversion attempt failed as Bay picked off an errant pass, leaving the score Pirates 12, Tigers 7.

The ensuing kick sailed out of bounds and Bay High took possession at the 37-yard line. Shabazz then fumbled the ball and the Pirates recovered with 4:52 remaining in the quarter.

Immediately Clark went to work again, connecting with opportunity for his third, his third, touchdown pass of the evening to an outstretched Willie James in the end zone. The Tigers again thwarted the two-point conversion and the score remained 18-7 with one minute left in the quarter.

Once again the Tigers were moving the ball downfield when Bay quarterback Shabazz was flushed out of the pocket and lost control of the ball, with the Pirates recovering.

11-yard gain and a first down. The Tigers were penalized on the next play and their drive stalled with eight minutes remaining in the third quarter.

Murphy's punt was deflected, and a personal foul against the Tigers gave the Pirates the ball at midfield.

Two plays later the combination of Clark and Ward struck again as Ward caught a perfect-

Ward for a 20-yard gain to the Tiger 30. Two plays later Tiger linebacker Willie Dequeant broke through the line and sacked Clark for a 15-yard loss, moving them out of field goal range.

A fourth down penalty on an illegal block by the Tigers put the Pirates again in striking distance from the 16-yard line. Clark took advantage of the

Both teams appeared to wear down in the fourth quarter as they traded possessions to no avail. The game ended with both teams congratulating each other on the 50-yard line.

The Pirates move to an impressive 3-0 record on the season as the Tigers fell to 1-1. The Tigers will play host to Greene County next week. Kickoff is 7:30 p.m.

BY TRACI BONNEY
The Hawks were upset Friday night as the Picayune Maroon Tide handed the Hawks their third consecutive loss this season.

The Hawks received the ball on the first possession of the game and began play on their own 33-yard line.

The Tide's first possession of the quarter ended in two earned first downs, but also netted 15 yards in penalties.

Picayune lost possession on downs and was forced to turn the ball over to Hancock at the Hawk's 34-yard line.

Hancock advanced the ball 8 yards before they fumbled and Picayune recovered the ball at Hancock's 24-yard line with 47 seconds left in the first quarter.

Picayune lost yardage on their first few downs, then, with 10:22 left in the second quarter, Picayune burst through the Hawk defense and ran for 25-yards and a first down at the Hancock 8-yard line.

The Tide took advantage of their fumble recovery in a big way.

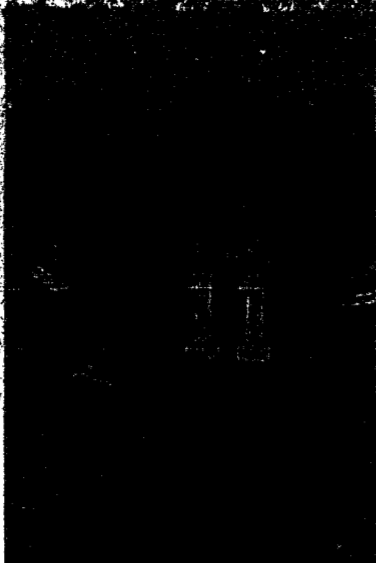

Picayune quarterback Byron Magee topped the 25-yard shot with a 3-yard run with 8:29 left in the half.

Shawn Grigsby's kick was good and Picayune led Hancock with a score of 7-0.

Hancock started, what would end up being a long possession, at their own 33-yard line.

The Hawk's possession was marked by two 15-yard penalties, one face mask and a clipping call.

Then, Hancock quarterback Chad Peterson went into the air. The pass was intercepted by Picayune and the Hawks were penalized again when a personal foul was called against them with 3:44 left in the half.

Picayune capitalized on the Hawk errors and with two snaps of the ball, scored again on a 70-yard run by Jared Dickerson. The extra point by Grigsby was good and the score was 14-0, Picayune, with 2:41 left in the quarter.

Thirty one seconds and two snaps later, the Hawks threw another interception and Picayune took over again with good field position at the Hancock 47-yard line.

Picayune fought with their possession, but they still came out on top.

With 31 seconds left in the half, Picayune scored a third time with a 4-yard run by Carlos Bogan.

BY TRACI BONNEY
Picayune's possession of the ball at the beginning of the second half, but couldn't capitalize on the advantage and was forced to punt.

Hancock dominated the clock in the third quarter and used the time wisely.

A 15-yard penalty against Picayune for roughing the passer helped Hancock work their way down the field and get within scoring distance.

Then, on a pass from Peterson to Billy Lee got Hancock on the scoreboard.

Lee ran for an 83-yard touchdown with 3:50 left on the third quarter and the extra point by Antonio Carillo was good.

The score was now 21-7 and the Hawks appeared to be learning how to fly.

Picayune took over the ball, in their last possession of the quarter, at their own 24-yard line.

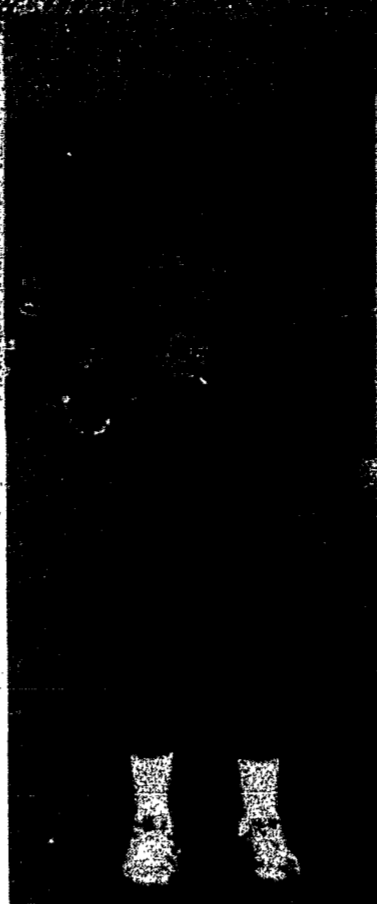

They acquired three first downs, with a total rushing yardage for the team in that possession alone of 83-yards and another touchdown.

The 8-yard touchdown run and the extra point brought the score to 28-7 at the end of the third quarter.

Hancock had the first possession the fourth quarter, but they were unable to advance against the Picayune defense and were forced to punt the ball.

Picayune was advancing into Hawk territory when they fumbled and Hancock recovered the ball at their own 41-yard line.

Hancock took advantage of

the Picayune mistake and quickly put more points on the board.

Another Peterson to Lee connection made the score possible with a 56-yard pass completion.

The extra point by Carillo was good and the final score of the game was 28-14.

Hancock, whose record is 0-3, will play St. Stanislaus at home Friday night. The game will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Indians massacre Rocks 38-7

BY TRACI BONNEY

It was an ambush at Biloxi's "Yankie" Stadium Friday night as the hosting Indians waylaid the visiting St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws 38-7.

The 5-A Indians thoroughly dominated the game, drawing first blood a little over a minute into the game and racking up 31 points in the first half. In the second half, the Rocks scored, and also managed to prevent any further Indian TDs until the last two minutes of the game.

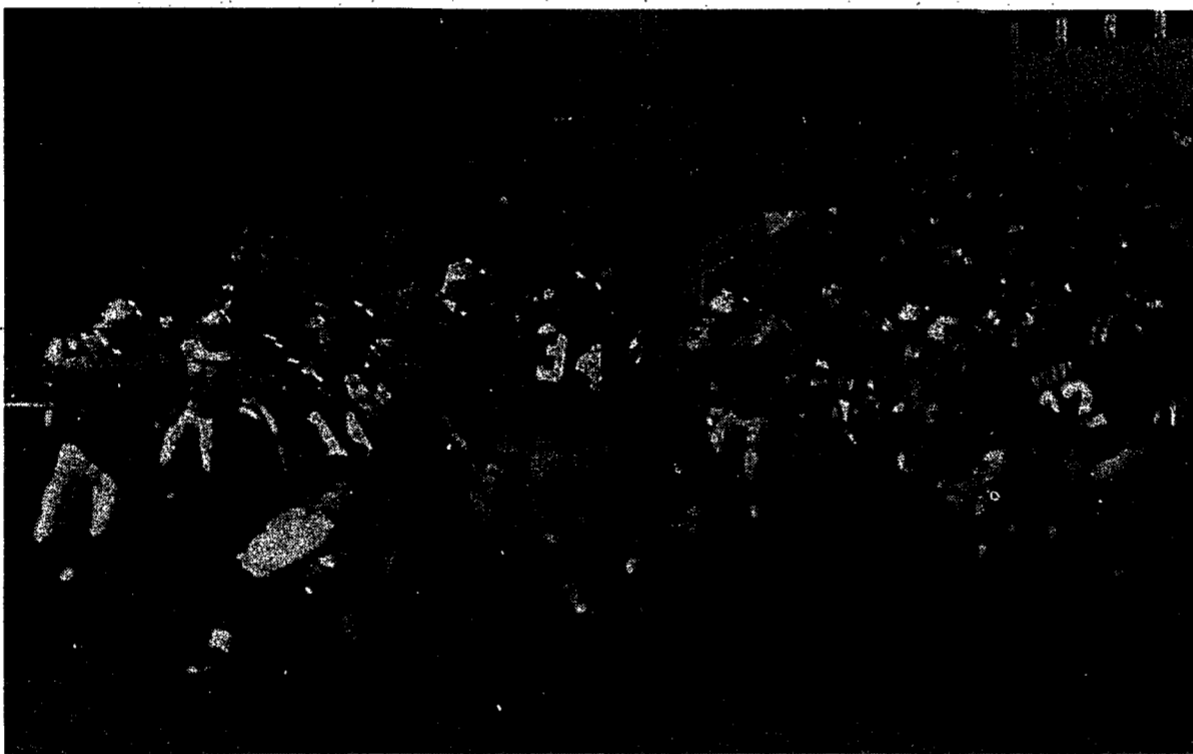

SSC head coach Brannon LeBlanc knew the 4-A Rocks were in for a battle. He's spent time in the Indians' camp; he is the former offensive coordinator for Biloxi.

LeBlanc commented after the game, "God bless (Biloxi coach) John Williams. He could have scored several more touchdowns on us if he'd wanted to."

"Biloxi has a quick, aggressive defense. (Assistant coach) Kenny Hudson has done a great job with them."

As for Stanislaus, LeBlanc said, "We thought we had something going in that first series, but we got ourselves penalized and lost our momentum. Once the game got out of hand, the guys had a hard time getting going again."

Penalties were a problem for both teams — Biloxi had three touchdowns called back because of penalties, while flags against Stanislaus seemed to help advance the Indians more often than not.

SSC's only score came in the first half of the fourth quarter when the Rocks recovered a Biloxi fumble at the Indians' 19. On the next play, Nathan Middleton fired off a pass to David Bell for 6 points. The PAT kick was good, making the score 31-7 with 7:17 left in the game.

It seemed that the Rocks were going to hold Biloxi to 31 points, but the Indians recovered a SSC fumble on a punt return reception, then ran it in on the next play from the Rocks' 9-yard line for the night's final TD. The point-after kick sealed the score at 38-7 with 1:49 to go in the game.

Middleton, Brandon Benoit and Brooks Quinlan were the main ball carriers for St. Stanislaus Friday. Jeep Mestayer, Tyree Haynes, David Manasco and Corey Charles also made vital contributions to the Rocks' game.

Next Friday, the Rocks play their first district game of the season, traveling to Hawk Stadium to face Hancock High School. Kickoff is 7:30 p.m.

THE SEA COAST ECHO - SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1994-1B

Tragedy and disease plague Shoreline Park family

So many times we think that things can't get any worse for us, until we face reality and look at the world around us and the people that are struggling to make it from day to day. People that are fighting a battle against time, a battle for life and a battle for their very existence and their home.

Those are the battles that the Halls have waged a war against for over 21 years and now they say that it seems that the walls are closing in and there is no where to turn.

Brenge "Brad" Hall and his wife Jan try to face each day with optimism, but it is hard.

Recently, their home was foreclosed upon and they are having to file bankruptcy due to astronomical medical bills.

Brad has been diagnosed with diseases that should have killed him long ago, but he is a fighter and he takes one day at a time.

In fact, when he first developed the disease in the 70's, it was thought that he had leprosy. Two months after the death of his first wife, Brad was committed to a Louisiana leper colony for two years before any doctors realized that he did not have that disease.

"It is hard for Brad. The pain is constant and there is no pain medication that helps. He doesn't like to take a lot of pain medication anyway because he wants to be able to function. He wants to live his life and do as much as he can, but it's getting harder for him," Jan said, fighting back tears.

Brad has Raynaud's disease, scleroderma and cold erdicaria.

Raynaud's disease causes the blood vessels to collapse and gangrene to develop. Brad already has had all of his fingers amputated or partially amputated and most of his toes.

The scleroderma is a disease of the connective tissue, skin, that causes lesions and ulcerations of the skin. Brad is currently going to the hospital and his legs are put into a whirlpool three times a week so that doctors can try to save them.

Blockages have formed in Brad's heart due to the scleroderma. Some arteries are 99 percent blocked.

"Just in the part of the heart that they can see there are eight blockages," Jan said.

Brad has survived two strokes and a heart attack in the past four years.

Cold erdicaria is an allergy to heat, which triggers the Raynauds attacks.

Medical bills have crippled this family. Not only with Brad's health problems, but also his mother, father and Jan's daughter.

Brad's mother is in the latter stages of Alzheimer's and Parkinson's disease and does not qualify for any type of assistance.

long ago from cancer, Jan said that he had nine different life insurance and burial policies, that were supposed to be paid for, but when he died most of the companies had went bankrupt or they were canceled when he retired from Avondale at the age of 75.

"All of his policies that he had through Avondale canceled the day that they retired him. He had no benefits from that moment on," Jan said.

Jan's daughter, 23, has been diagnosed with brain cancer and is not expected to live very long.

"I have had to put my daughter, who is paralyzed from the tumor, in a hospice center in Atlanta," she says through tears. "I won't even be with my daughter when she dies because I have my husband and his mother that I have to care for."

"I have to be with my husband. I love him very much and I wouldn't be anywhere else but by his side. I could not love his mother more if she were my mother. It's just hard not being with my daughter too," Jan said.

The love that is seen in the eyes of Brad and Jan is obvious to anyone who sees them, even a stranger.

Brad is a Korean veteran and does qualify for V.A. benefits, but there are some procedures that the V.A. hospitals that he goes to does not offer that he receives from Tulane Medical Center.

"The V.A. will not pay for the treatments that he receives at other hospitals because he did not develop these diseases while he was in the military. There is one treatment that he gets regularly from Tulane that costs $4,000," Jan said.

Thursday, Brad went into the hospital for blood work that needed to be done, he had been home for 15 minutes and the hospital was calling him to come back and be admitted for blood transfusions.

The Sea Bees along with a few volunteers are working to build the Halls a small new house, but the Halls have no money to buy materials.

McCoy's Building Supply in Gulfport has donated $300 in lumber and a friend took down a fence so that they would have 2x6s that were needed and a family in Picayune has donated windows that they took out of a house that they were remodeling, but more materials are needed.

We are quickly running out of materials for the new house and we will have to be out of our old house soon. I just keep praying that something good will happen for us," Jan said.

If anyone has anything that they could possibly give or would like to help in the construction please call 4664457.

A fund has been established for the Halls at any Peoples Bank. In Bay St. Louis, contact Jeanne Dean the account number is 1488923.

Tate-Summerville

Timothy Summerville of Montgomery, Ala., and Trent Jerome Tate, of Bay St. Louis, were married Saturday, June 4, at the Archibald Center.

The ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Dr. J. H. G. Smith, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Bay St. Louis.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ceola Smith of Bay St. Louis and Mr. William A. Tate of Bay St. Louis.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Tate of Bay St. Louis.

Wedding music was provided by Lewis Webb, Douglas Smith, Leonardo Nettles and Lewis Webb were vocalists.

The bride, given in marriage by her grandfather, Hubby Smith Sr., chose for her wedding a gown designed by her aunt, Mrs. Dellaphine Moore of Columbus, Ohio. The gown was embellished with crystals and beading. Her headpiece was a creation of beading and an organza puff.

Serving as the bride's attendant was her sister, Monica Summerville. Bridesmaids were LaTonya Moorner, cousin of the bride, and Erica Abernethy, Tyouna Summerville, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. Flower girls were Aleahia Martin and Gweveta Smith, La Briel Smith and La Brea Smith, all cousins of the bride.

Ringbearer was Timothy Summerville, brother of the bride.

Terry Tate served as his brother's best man.

Ushers were Johnson Lee Bridges III, Ivy Harris, Dr. Parag Kanitkar, Dr. Brad Majors and Lee D. Smith, cousin of the bride. Groomsman were Darren Hazeur and Michael Wyatt. Hugh Smith III was junior groomsman.

The reception was held at the Archibald Center in Montgomery.

Dr. and Mrs. Trent Jerome Tate

Following a honeymoon, the couple makes their home in Goldsboro, N.C.

Carver—Lang

Dawn Marie Lang, of Bay St. Louis, became the bride of Stephan Edward Carver, of Bay St. Louis, at a 2 p.m. ceremony Saturday, June 4, 1994, at St. John's Church in Lakeshore. Father Peter Mockler officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephan Edward Carver

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lang of Bay St. Louis. The groom is the son of Larry Carver of Bay St. Louis and Kathy C. Wieranga of St. Petersburg, Fla.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. McKenner, organist. The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding a gown of white satin. The gown was fashioned with a scalloped V neckline. The shoulders were lightly puffed with long fitted sleeves, re-embroidered lace applique accents. The fitted bodice was enhanced by appliques of Alencon lace. The full skirt featured the same intricate appliques of lace, pearls and iridescent sequins. The back of the gown was a deep V, ending with a bow. The lace panel extended from the waist to the end of the full chapel-length train.

The bride's veil fell from a headband decorated with pearls, baby's breath and dainty flowers. Streamers of ribbon and white flowers flowed down the sides of the headband and veil.

Maid of honor was Mary Klein. Bridesmaids were Gwyn Mauffray and Pam Newman, sisters of the bride, Julie Carbo and Kristi Klein.

Flower girl was Meagan Mauffray.

Larry Carver served his son as best man. Ushers were Herbert Newman and Bruce Sellier. Groomsman were Lee Klein Jr., Bryan Ladner and Tom Smith.

The reception was held at the Hancock County Fairgrounds.

The couple lives in Bay St. Louis.

Best KOPS was Catherine. Ruth received charms for losing six weeks in a row. Thelma received a charm for losing 30 pounds. Deidre and Thelma reached half way to goal. Debbie and Ruth won the summer contest. The month's best loser was Ruth. Deidre presented a program on nutrition bingo. The chapter will have an auction next week.

TOPS MS 233 meets every Tuesday at the Waveland Public Library. Weigh-ins are from 5:30-6 p.m. with the meeting immediately following weigh-in.

Anyone interested in losing weight the sensible way and maintaining that weight loss is welcome to visit the TOPS chapter. Interested persons are invited to call Debbie at 467-0784 for more information.

Mississippi PTA

Mississippi PTA is a non-profit organization that seeks to improve the quality of education for all children. Goal for membership is at least 70,000 for the 1994-95 school year. To promote this, September and October have been designated "Membership Months."

The National PTA reminds us that by taking an interest in our children and learning about their schools, they have a better chance for success.

For more information, contact your local school or the state PTA office at 1-800-795-6123.

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139

The monthly meeting of the Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139 was Thursday, Sept. 8 at the post clubhouse on Green Meadow Road.

President Janelle Nicaise opened the meeting; color-bearers Hazel Wohlschlegel and Charlotte Sellers presented the colors; chaplain Carolyn Bermond read the opening prayers, followed by a moment of silent prayer for ailing and deceased members, and Nicaise requested members join her in the Pledge of Allegiance and Preamble.

Secretary Patricia Garcia read the minutes of the previous meeting, and treasurer Bobby Tomlinson presented the financial report.

Nicaise reported on the national convention and told of many things necessary for the growth of the auxiliary, the aims and purposes of the newly-elected officers, and how each auxiliary can play a vital part in attaining the various goals put forth.

There will be a fall carnival Wednesday, Oct. 12 in Gulfport. Members are asked to participate, as it is a very worthy project.

Prior to adjournment, sergeant-at-arms Roslyn Weathers introduced three new members, Frances, Graves, Jane Graves and Agnes Fynn.

The chaplain read the closing prayers, color-bearer retired the colors, and the president spoke the closing words.

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 77

There was an installation banquet recently for newly elected officers of Bourgeois-Stieffel-Ray Unit 77 American Legion Auxiliary.

Officers elected were Isabel Crais, president; Dorothy Bielstein, first vice president; Elaine Luwisch, second vice president; Eleanor Marsh, historian; Katie Callo, secretary; Pat Lepine, treasurer; Mary Caillier, chaplain; Earline Ruhr, color guard; and Elizabeth Bryant-sergeant-at-arms.

The executive committee consists of the afore mentioned officers and Dorothy Bessey, Myrtle Blanchard and Helena Coleman.

The installing officer was Barbara Russo, Department of Mississippi past president.

Other dignitaries introduced were Department of Mississippi president Bessie Ladner, Department of Mississippi first vice president Janice Carver, Ninth District president Shirley Williams, and past Department of Mississippi president Lou Wilkinson.

Magnolia State Volkssport Club

Magnolia State Volkssport Club will conduct its monthly meeting Sept. 15 at 7 p.m. at the Ocean Springs Recreation Department, 400 Alice Street.

Preparation for the November event will be the main item of discussion, and all members are encouraged to be present.

Anyone interested in Volksmarching is welcome to attend and find out more about the organization. For details call 872-3059.

Personals

CHALLENGE ISSUED TO the entire Catholic Church. Please distribute free economical rosaries to the world's very poor by using 5% of charity funds and have the brothers and nuns at the religious outpost of the world distribute these rosaries. Also use 5% of general charity funds to buy one tractor and seeds to be sent to each religious outpost in Africa, Mexico, etc., where water is available so the poor can grow their own food. I am talking about massive distribution using only 5% from each parish to send rosaries and tractors. Prayer in God will end communism, sin and abortion if this is done. Please deliver what the church promises to the poor and to those who donate. Priests can do this if 5 or 10% is used from each church. I realize some help is being done. This is like a rosary net that wraps the entire world.

Sincerely in Christ,
Bruce Fayard
Rosary maker & farmer

ON LIFE By Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

The religion of sports

All of us are more than acquainted with the rituals of baseball and football where a congregation of people of both sexes, of all ages, of every race and ethnic group fall silent with great reverence, then bellow our National Anthem.

This gathering song, or processional, has no peer in most churches where the pastor feels fortunate to have a representative number of the congregation singing with some gusto.

Greetings follow the national anthem on the field of play, including a hearty prayer of well-wishing. The readings of the day are done, presenting two devoted teams vying virtuously for the perfection of a game on carefully lined turf.

Preeminent in the readings of the day are the lineups for each team, portraying clean sportsmen who would not dream of cheating or playing dirty. As hell-bent as they are on winning, so heaven-bent are they on fairness and virtue.

Immediately after the readings, the players of each team form a circle and join hands, offering up a prayer, assuring the entire congregation that winning is not everything and that most important of all is how the game is played.

That done, the sermon follows in which each coach exhorts his athletes to be gentlemen before jocks, courteous before cunning, devil beaters before people tormentors. Then he tells them to get out there and wage a noble battle.

Deeply touched, thoroughly inspired, the whole congregation roars a mighty amen, many raising their eager, grateful hands to heaven, many others giving thunderous applause.

Emulating the heavenly host, the earthly gladiators charge out, eager to do battle, firmly resolved to be perfect both as gentlemen and consummate sportsmen. The electric reaction of the congregation affirms that will indeed happen.

Immaculately dressed in zebra stripes, the ushers proceed to ensure that all the players are lined up properly, that no one cheats on the clock, that no one touches another improperly and that all the ground rules are followed scrupulously.

Selflessly, the players hasten with great joy to show the congregation that the least important word is "I" and the most important word is "we." This simply means the ministry of teamwork, subjecting the will of me to that of us.

This selflessness appears first in the huge linemen, ever unsung heroes of the trenches, who sacrifice their ample bodies that the quarterback may live. Battered and bruised, at times bleeding, they make an unblemished offering.

Alas, for all their effort and valor, linemen cannot always restrain the furiously onrushing opponents. At such moments, the quarterback must offer his sacrifice, hanging in the pocket until the last minute before passing the ball.
